SPECIAL PERMIT RELIEF

Flour and Provender Are Allowed Shipment in Urgent Need.

Fumigation of Packages Has Proved Only Superficial—Serum Treatment Does Not Exempt From Baggage Disinfection.

There were present at the Board of Health meeting on Saturday afternoon: Dr. Wood, president, Dr. Emerson, Dr. Day, Attorney General Cooper, F. M. Hatch and F. J. Lowrey, members; Messrs. Wakefield, Humbert and Shorey, of the committee on commerce; Dr. Hoffmann, physician of the pest hospital; Dr. Pratt, sanitary building inspector; Drs. Peterson and Jobe, Board call physicians; Ed. Towse, chief sanitary inspector; Jos. A. Gilman of Castle & Cooke, Ltd., Arch. F. Gillilan and Clarence L. Crabbe, wharf managers respectively for the Hackfeld and Davies corporations; E. R. Hendry, private secretary to the president, and Chas. Wilcox, secretary of the Board.

Upon the reading of the report of the committee on commerce, a short discussion resulted in its amendment to the form appearing in that afternoon's Bulletin.

Fumigation Only Superficial.

Dr. Wood, in the discussion, read a report of the bacteriologist on fumigation experiments. Bacilli exposed were killed by the hot air process the same as by sulphur. Those in tubes placed in the interior of merchandise were not destroyed. So far as efficiency was concerned the hot air was no better than sulphur, but had the advantage in time of one hour against 36 hours. If, in the proposal to permit the shipment of flour and feed, it was intended to cleanse only the outside of the packages, the fumigation would be sufficient. The Board should not do unreasonable things. Yet it should do nothing blindly. There was very little danger from goods. If it could be absolutely regulated the removal of restrictions on a great many classes of merchandise would be a wise thing, but it was utterly impossible. People would not look beyond their pockets. Until they were absolutely sure the danger was past they could not throw down the bars. Merchants were showing indisposition to use the quarantine wharf under the impression that everything was going to be thrown wide open, because it was a little more trouble and a little more expense. If after the committee knew the results of hot air fumigation they allowed shipments so treated he had nothing more to say.

In answer to Mr. Cooper, the president said thirty days after the last case would be better than ten days for raising the quarantine, sixty days better than thirty and a year better than sixty days. The recent cases did not influence the question of merchandise. It was a matter of lurking infection. Mr. Smith asked if it would make fumigation more effective to separate the bags of flour or bran with strips of wood or iron so as to allow the hot air to circulate. This need not be put in the report, but the committee could have it carried out. It was known that stock was suffering for feed on the other islands.

Dr. Wood said shipments would be safe if Macfarlane's ideas were adopted.

Mr. Smith knew that, but favor could not be shown to one firm that happened to have special facilities for such treatment of goods. He moved to strike out the last paragraph of the report which extended the list of permitted goods, this after consulting with the other members of the committee. Dr. Emerson seconded the motion, which passed without dissent.

Conditions of Travel.

Dr. Wood spoke of the rush of people to take the serum injection so that they might travel. This condition lately prescribed took no account of personal effects. It was impossible for the Board to do wholesale disinfection of baggage. This was the difficulty they were running against. To follow up people in detention would cause considerable expense when necessary housing, feeding and transportation were included. Many who had taken the injection were from detention camps, largely of the classes among which plague was most likely to break out. He knew it was unsafe to let these people travel unless their baggage and clothing were disinfected by the Board's own plant.

Dr. Emerson said it was not the Board's affair in one sense, yet if they did not do it the people on the other islands would not be satisfied.

Dr. Wood continued that if there was any danger outside of emanations from the human body, it was from rats and personal effects.

Mr. Cooper considered that having announced that taking the serum qualified for going away, they must see the thing through in thorough manner.

Dr. Wood stated that the injection simply was to be understood as saving time of quarantine, but the necessity of being unexposed and of having personal effects fumigated should be strictly required. It would only be necessary to add to the former resolution the words, "after disinfection of all clothing and personal effects under supervision of the Board of Health."

Mr. Cooper moved, seconded by Dr. Emerson and it was ordered that such was the sense of the Board.
Messrs. J. B. Atherton, C. M. Cooke and T. Rain Walker, finance committee for the Board, requested to be relieved from duty at the end of this month. Action was deferred.
The same committee recommended the storage of detention camp equipments if there was a chance of their being needed again, otherwise to have them sold for the benefit of plague suppression funds.

Removal of Animals.

Wm. Norton wanted permission to send a number of mules for plantation work over the Pali. C. Boite asked a similar privilege for himself and another for the Kaneohe Ranch Co. regarding horses. All of the animals had been in pasture away from town. Dr. Wood remarked that this was a harvest from one privilege of the same kind granted the other day. The requests were complied with by vote, on the understanding that conditions in the first case were observed.

J. P. Mendonca, who had taken the serum, desired liberty to go to Wailua, thence to Kaneohe and stay there. His case comes under the condition of travel already modified at this session.

Mr. Cooper suggested that restrictions might be removed on this island. Mr. Lowrey said that Dr. Carmichael, surgeon of U. S. Marine Hospital, had intimated that such action would affect sugars from this island.

Dr. Wood remarked that it was easy to hold things down firmly to one place, but very hard to control matters when once eased up. He presented a petition from a great many merchants and shipping firms for removing restrictions from American and European goods. This question had, however, been settled by the adoption of the report from the committee on commerce.

At this stage Dr. Wood delivered an address on sanitation, a report of which is deferred.

Some Relief Granted.

Mr. Smith, just before the meeting adjourned at 4:35, moved the following resolution, which was adopted: "That shipments of flour, feed, grain and other provender be permitted on special permits only, and that permits be issued only on presentation of good evidence that such articles are urgently needed."
